June 2019

Dear Parent/Carer,

There are a lot of things that need to be done in preparation for your child's first day at school. As part of preparing, making sure your child is up to date with their immunisations is also really important. Having your child immunised is the best way to protect them from serious childhood diseases.

At school your child will be mixing with other children in small spaces which increases the risk of germs spreading. Immunisations will help protect your child from diseases which can be spread very quickly making children very poorly and could lead to serious complications. It is really important your child is fully protected and getting immunised is a safe and effective way of doing this. It also helps protect other people as well.

Your child should have had a pre-school booster and their second Measles, Mumps and Rubella immunisation at the GP practice when they were around 3 and a half years old.

If you are not sure if your child is up to date with their immunisations check their personal health record (Red Book) or contact your GP practice today. For more information visit www.nhs.uk/vaccinations.

For information on MMR in different languages or in an accessible format visit <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/mmr-for-all-general-leaflet>.

We wish your child a happy and healthy start at school.

Yours sincerely,

Tricia Spedding
